

I am concerned about th LPFM taking over the current FM translator service. I listen to K-LOVE and WJIE, both of which are Christian stations. I probably wouldn't even listen to the radio at all if it weren't for their programming. I have two small children that are in my vehicle with me all the time. With stations like K-LOVE, I don't have to worry about what's being said on the radio. I know it's something that is appropriate for them to hear. If K-LOVE were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster and I weren't able to receive their station anymore, it would greatly affect me and my community. I can't imagine not having them there to listen to. I know there have to be so many others that feel the same way. I have heard so many people that have said things just like me about the safeness of the programming for our kids. What about the positive message that it supplies for teenagers too? We NEED this programming. It's not a matter of something that we just enjoy, we absolutely NEED it. Please don't allow something that will take it away from us...or our children.
